Autopilot for success

The difference between SUCCESSFUL people and those who give up on their goals is CONSISTENCY.

Ryan Mitchell Rios, a serial entrepreneur who is currently running five companies explains success as, "You are what you do and what you consume daily."

Tony Robbins said: "It's not what we do once in a while that shapes our lives. It's what we do consistently."

When Stephen King, author of many blockbuster books, is writing a book, he will consistently write at least two thousand words a day for three months at a time. He will write on weekends, holidays, even Christmas. Two thousand words a day works out to about ten pages a day. After three months, his first draft is complete.

John Maxwell says, "Small disciplines repeated with consistency every day lead to great achievements gained slowly over time."

A NOTE FROM OUR FOUNDER...

As a self-help junkie, I'm always looking for the next great book to read or podcast to listen to. Currently, "Extreme Leadership" by Jocko Willink and Leif Babin is the book I can't put down—it's life-changing! I also happen to be a fan of Sara Blakely, founder of Spanx, and her husband, Jeese Itzler, a billionaire, CEO, and keynote speaker. This husband and wife team are incredible billionaire business tycoons; their backgrounds and stories inspire me.

Recently, I listened to Jesse talk about what it takes to become better than 95% of the world. Do you want to know what it is? It's simple; it's a mere 18 minutes a day or 109 hours a year. We know practicing the piano for 18 minutes a day won't make you a concert pianist, but practicing for 18 minutes a day will make you a better pianist than 95% of the people in the world! Jesse adds a disclaimer in which he says, "It doesn't take much to be special... It just takes consistency." The key word is consistency. We all have 18 minutes each day to become better at one thing, what will you do with yours?

Ask yourself, "What do I want to become better at doing?" Are you willing to spend 18 minutes a day improving your life, your finances, and your credit? Whatever it is, if done consistently, you will outperform 95% of the population. That's pretty exciting!

Here's to becoming better with a consistent 18 minutes each day!

Connie, the Credit Lady

Who is Connie Larson?

Living Better 101's Co-Founder, Owner, & Chief Credit Officer

Master Certified Life Coach, and Certified Credit Coach, Connie, together with her husband and business partner Jon, created the Living Better 101 Academy to educate Students while they RESTORED their Credit, REBUILT their Credit, and REPAIRED mistakes of the past.

“Because we too, have experienced ‘bad credit’, we understand the pain and embarrassment of our students. We also know how exhilarating it is to have all the opportunities EXCELLENT CREDIT has restored back to us. Therefore, it was important we teach our Students the habits and strategies necessary for enjoying all the benefits of good credit once again.”

The Interview

What Is The Ideal Experience For Your Student/Client?

I think it is important that each person feel heard and understood with an empathetic coach and friend by their side. We all need people we can trust and depend on to walk us through this process without judgment.

How Do You Motivate Others?

Two things: 1) We celebrate, reward, and acknowledge milestones of achievement. This truly drives progress. 2) We also maintain an intimate relationship with each student, encouraging them to ask questions and receive assistance in achieving their individual goals. Our students become lifelong friends.

What Do You Do Best?

I think I listen really well. I can't hear the painful stories my students share with me and not feel empathetic to their situation, after all, I have walked in their shoes. I wish someone had taken me by the hand, answered my questions, and guided me through this process. This is exactly what I have put in place. And I spend hours reading, learning, and developing new ideas that can only make the Living Better 101 Academy better.

What Is Your Biggest Success?

That's easy. Our nine amazing children! Each one has now become my teacher. I can't take all the credit though, they have a father who loves them deeply and with whom I am blessed to have as my partner.

What is Your Motto?

I make important to me that which is important to my children, my husband, my friends, my employees, and of course, my students.

Current Passions?

Writing, writing, and more writing. I have just finished writing my first book, a memoir, sharing the love story I live daily with the love of my life. It is the legacy we are leaving for our children.

New Car

Kelly came to us for help with his Credit because he was willing to go to any length to achieve his goals.

Kelly gave up his lifestyle to pursue a lifelong goal of designing and providing beautiful florals for high-end weddings and clients. Not many are willing to make the sacrifices Kelly has.

His sacrifices have paid off. Kelly's Credit now provides him with a new SUV, filled to the brim with flowers and equipment. He spends his days making the world a more beautiful place, one wedding at a time. He still has work to do, and we will be here cheering him on.
